allergens & additives

Please note: with a severe nut allergy, unfortunately we cannot take on the risk, to prepare dishes that are 100% nut-free for you. We often and gladly use various types of nuts in our kitchen. The risk of traces / cross-contamination and therefore the responsibility for your health is too great for us here.

The same applies to (severe) coeliac disease. Please speak to our service team; we also have gluten-free bread, but it is baked in the same oven/in the same environment. Despite great care, we can never completely rule out traces/cross-contamination here either.

We also ask you to make one final "allergy check" with our service team when served, to rule out mix-ups! Thank you.
